

FMCA FLASHBACK

A look at the association and the RV lifestyle through the years, as portrayed in past issues of Family Motor Coaching.

MARCH-APRIL 1974

Many of the articles and advertisements in this issue referenced the energy crisis and ways to continue enjoying the motorhome lifestyle. "Coach of the Month" honors went to the new GMC motorhome.

MARCH 1978

The "Coachhouse," designed by Carl Watts and Bill White, provided adequate living space, plus shelter and hookups for a motorhome, all under one roof.

FMCA executive director emeritus Ken Scott (below, left side of page) appeared as a model in FMCA merchandise ads.

The "RV News & Notes" column reported that singer/movie star Pat Boone, F105300, was selected as the new host of The Nashville Network's "Wish You Were Here" TV show.
